I'm Thankful

By Elise Ross

I'm thankful we live in a country where brave women and men commit themselves to maintain our freedoms. My husband John, a US Marine, will be flying our flag to honor former and current service members.

I'm thankful to live in a community that provides us opportunities to help the less fortunate in St. Lucie County. Both the Social Committee's Food Drive (11/1-7) and their Toy Drive (12/1-7) are long-time annual giving programs. These community projects allow all residents to start the upcoming holiday season off with a generous spirit.

I'm thankful that The Lakes Life has been receiving favorable neighbor comments since its first edition this past July. I'm thankful that residents (guest contributors) have offered articles for publication.

The Communications Committee welcomes suggestions and/or drafted resident articles for potential inclusion in a future edition. The author of any article printed will be identified. Please forward your suggestions or articles to:

Painting Survey Results Are In

By Ken Perlman

The painting survey recently sent out to homeowners resulted in a 54% overall response rate with 372 homeowner responses from our 687 homes. 83% of the responders stated that they wanted to allow changes to the original colors of our homes, while 17% responded that they wanted to keep our homes their original colors with no changes allowed to the original colors.

Based on that survey response, a committee will now be formed that will meet with experts from two paint companies to develop additional color palettes from which a homeowner wishing to change the existing color of their home may choose.

Each homeowner wanting to change their color would be allowed to choose between two additional colors for their home. If you now have a yellow colored home, you will have a set of two additional colors, available only to yellow homes, from which you may choose. If you now have a tan colored home, there will be a second set of two additional colors, available only to tan homes, from which you may choose. If you now have a peach colored home, there will be a third set of two additional colors, available only to peach homes, from which you may choose.

In that way, the problem of multiple homes sitting side by side all painted the same color would be avoided. Once the committee chooses preliminary colors, those colors will then be voted upon by homeowners.

Any homeowner wishing to keep the current color of their home would be allowed to do so. However, if a homeowner of a Capri wishes to change the color of their Capri while his adjoining neighbor does not, the color of that Capri would have to remain as it currently is.

Happy Thanksgiving

The History Of Veterans Day

By Tom Klein

Did you know that Veteran’s Day was formerly known as Armistice Day? Armistice Day was set on November 11, 1918 as a legal federal holiday to honor the end of World War I. Why November 11th? Because World War I ended on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month of 1918.

Then, twenty years later, in 1938, federal legislation was passed to make November 11th “dedicated to the issue of world peace” and to honor all World War I veterans.

And finally, 16 years after that, on June 1, 1954, Armistice Day (November 11th) was renamed Veteran’s Day and is now meant to honor all veterans.

Memorial Day in May is now meant to honor service members who died in the service to our country as a result of injuries incurred in battle.

The staff of The Lakes Life would like to thank all veterans of The Lakes who have answered our country’s call to duty.

Thank You For Your Service!

Abacoa’s Outdoor Motown Concert Is November 18

By Tom Klein

Now that it’s officially fall in Florida and evenings are cooling down, we thought you might be interested to know of some nearby outdoor live concert venues for your music entertainment. The Abacoa POA present free live band concerts in downtown Abacoa’s outdoor Amphitheatre on about a once a month basis. The Abacoa community in Jupiter has a small downtown area similar to ours here in Tradition.

November 18th brings N2 Nation’s Motown Magic. And December 16th has the Almost AB-BA Tribute Band performing. These outdoor concerts begin at 7:30pm. Bring your own chair.

If you’d like to have dinner out before taking in one of the concerts, there are several nice restaurants located in downtown Abacoa including: Bahama Bucks, Brick & Barrel, Jumby Bay Island Grill and JJ Muggs Stadium Grill.

To reach Jupiter’s downtown Abacoa, go south on I-95, exit east on Donald Ross Road, turn left at Central Blvd, then at the roundabout take the second exit onto Main Street. It’s only about a 35 minute drive from Tradition.

For more detailed information on these and other future live concert events, go to: abacoa.com and click on “Music/Entertainment.”

PSL Library Can Help You Preserve Your Memories Digitally

By Carolyn Hammer

Did you know that over time, your home movies on reel to reel or VHS tape will degrade and eventually become unwatchable? The St. Lucie County Library system has created a Memory Studio to help preserve your precious family memories.

Located at both the Morningside Branch in PSL and the Kilmer Branch in Ft. Pierce, the Memory Studio can be used to scan, digitize, transfer and preserve your old photos, slides, 8mm and Super 8 reels, VHS, VHS C, audio cassettes and vinyl into digital format.

Reservations are required, so to make an appointment call Josie (772-462-2189) at the Kilmer Branch, or Nick (772-337-5632) at the Morningside Branch.

Your appointment will last approximately 2 hours and you should come prepared to accomplish one specific task. You may need several appointments to complete a big project.

When you come, please bring your valid SLC library card (or you can get one that day) and a flash drive. Josie Tenboer at the Kilmer Branch recommends that you bring a brand name, reliable, 32 Gig flash drive. Flash drives (also known as thumb or jump drives), are available at Staples, Walmart or Target for less than $20.

Expect your appointment to last 2 hours, beginning with a 30-minute tutoring session in which staff will show you how to use the equipment. No previous experience is needed. For the remainder of your appointment, you will work independently, although staff will be available to answer questions or offer guidance, if needed.

The Memory Studio also has the Photoshop Suite and Elements Suite available to use. This service is available to all residents of St. Lucie at no charge, with a valid library card.

The Finance Committee members have been busy these last couple of months working on both the 2024 budget as well as our upcoming Reserve Study.

We've developed a "working draft" budget with input from our board members and property manager. We continue to refine the budget with further analysis and as additional contract information becomes available. Additionally, the 2024 budget report format will be changed to include some additional expense information.

In terms of Reserves, we have engaged Association Reserves to perform our Reserve Study. The finance team and property manager have been busy providing detailed background information in preparation for Association Reserve's on-site visit to our community.

This visit is expected to be conducted over a one or two day period of time, with their initial reports to follow that visit.

Special mention to Gene Wesnofske who has taken the lead in working with Association Reserves, bringing both his financial knowledge and his knowledge of our individual facilities to bear. Thank you Gene.

Please stay tuned as we expect both our 2024 Budget and an updated Reserve Study will be published in the ensuing weeks. While the date has not as yet been set for the Board meeting where the 2024 Budget is to be approved, we are expecting that meeting to take place sometime in November. So, please be alert for that upcoming announcement.

SEA, AIR, LAND - The Navy Seal Museum

By Kim Stapf

A person who serves the United States Military by sea, air and land is called a Navy Seal. Did you know that during World War II legions of scouts, raiders, Naval combat demolition teams and underwater units trained for combat and perfected their skills in the waters off nearby Fort Pierce? So, Fort Pierce was a natural to house the National Navy Seal Museum which now resides on those very same training grounds. Here, you may experience the history of America's most elite warriors.

This nearby museum has many indoor and outdoor interactive exhibits where you can test your knowledge and skills. You can dress as a Seal. You can climb aboard a Black Hawk helicopter, a Maersk Alabama Lifeboat, an MKV Assault Craft, or a NASA Apollo training spacecraft.

In the museum theatre, you can view declassified stories and actual footage highlighting the history of Naval Special Warfare from World War II to the present day. There are sections of the museum on the Korean Conflict, Desert Storm, the Global War on Terror (Sept. 11) and Captain Phillip's rescue by Navy Seals from Somali pirates in 2012. Also on display is a model of Osama bin Laden's compound.

Located at 3300 N. Highway A.1.A. in Fort Pierce, the National Navy Seal Museum is truly a must see. For additional information on hours and admission, check their website at: navysealmuseum.org

NATO Phonetic Alphabet

By Kim Stapf

First recognized internationally in 1927 and now known as the NATO Phonetic Alphabet, a radiotelephony alphabet became essential to Allies in World War II being able to effectively communicate with each other over radio by assigning words to represent letters of the Roman Alphabet. Combinations of several letters would represent various code phrases the military would use (AA=anti-aircraft), (CM=continue mission), (OM=on the move), (TY=thank you).

Since it may be difficult to understand whether a person is saying the letter "P", "B", "C" or "D" because they all sound so similar, using words (ex. "Papa," "Bravo," "Charlie" or "Delta") to represent those letters would make it easier to understand what you were trying to communicate.

Below is each military word paired with the letter it represents. Have some FUN (Foxtrot-Uniform-November) with this NATO Military Chart.

A - Alfa	H - Hotel	O - Oscar	V - Victor
B - Bravo	I - India	P - Papa	W - Whiskey
C - Charlie	J - Juliett	Q - Quebec	X - X-ray
D - Delta	K - Kilo	R - Romeo	Y - Yankee
E - Echo	L - Lima	S - Sierra	Z - Zulu
F - Foxtrot	M - Mike	T - Tango
G - Golf	N - November	U - Uniform

Join your neighbors who like playing cards and "taking tricks" at the Clubhouse on Thursday afternoons from 1:00pm to 3:30pm. Euchre is a social, quick paced, partnership card game that requires strategy and luck but comes with lots of laughs.

Beginners are welcomed with or without a partner.

Resident Spotlight

Suzanne Lieurance
(Prolific Author)

By Carolyn Hammer

Suzanne Lieurance is a prolific author with more than 40 published books to her name, a freelance writer, a writing coach & workshop leader and our friendly neighbor on Pembroke Drive here in The Lakes at Tradition community.

Suzanne started her career teaching in a ramshackle mobile classroom in a rural setting in Mason, Tennessee, but her sense of adventure would lead her on many stops along the way to becoming a published author and founder of Write by the Sea, LLC.

She was a classroom teacher off and on for 24 years and discovered she had an affinity for students labeled as problems by other educators. She enjoyed working with these students, gaining their trust and helping them achieve the results that would lead them to academic success. As she taught, Suzanne was also always writing. There came a day when she knew she wanted to write full time, so she made that leap and never looked back.

Suzanne’s sense of adventure continued as she accepted some challenging and unique writing contracts: Writing a children’s version of Alexandre Dumas’ The Three Musketeers, in just 12 pages of 250 words each, with no sword fights! She was tasked with writing a version of Hansel and Gretel that omitted the wicked stepmother, and a children’s version of William Shakespeare’s A Midsummer Night’s Dream, as well as a nonfiction book about the Spaceship Challenger disaster (which won a Children’s Choice Award in 2000).

Suzanne was in her element satisfying those contracts, while teaching for the Institute of Children’s Writing. She soon became a writing coach, as her background of helping others achieve success and all of her writing experience made her the perfect person to guide anyone with a passion for writing to become “the writer you always wanted to be.”

She and her husband moved to the Treasure Coast in 2021, fulfilling her dream of writing by the sea. Her coaching business is called Write By The Sea and can be found at: www.writebythesea.com

How Is Geothermal Energy Used To Heat Our Pools?

By Tom Klein

Geothermal energy is considered to be a renewable energy source as heat is being continually produced deep in the earth. Each of our pools use an underground deep well to tap into that heat source being produced in earth’s deep Aquifers to heat our pool water.

As the pool’s heaters are told to begin heating the pool water, a pump begins extracting hot water from an underground earth Aquifer via a deep water well, piping it to the pool heater where that hot well water then passes by one side of a metal heat exchanger.

Freon refrigerant absorbs heat from that hot well water and then transfers that heat to the cooler pool water passing by the other side of the heat exchanger. The pool water and well water never touch each other as each is on its own side of the metal heat exchanger between them.

After its heat is extracted and transferred to the pool water, the now cooled well water is then pumped back down a second underground deep well back into the earth’s Aquifer to be reheated by the earth and then reused.

According to the federal EPA, Geothermal heat pumps are the most energy-efficient, environmentally clean and cost effective systems available for heating. They’re predictably low maintenance, don’t burn expensive fossil fuels and can reduce energy heating bills by 70% over what a natural gas heater would cost us to heat our pool water.
